Congresswoman Halvorson has dedicated herself to traveling throughout the 11th District, which claims over 700,000 constituents and eight counties.

Most weeks, Congress is in session at least three days. Congresswoman Halvorson returns nearly every weekend to meet with constituents, local businesses and local agencies and officials to stay in touch and offer assistance.

Last year, the Congresswoman held over 200 events with constituents. Check out the google map below to see how the Congresswoman has spent her time at home:
